Natural and Organic

A baby's skin, especially in the first year of life, has different histological and physiological features than that of adult skin:

- ⊗ The horny layer is thinner: on one hand this means that the skin is softer and more velvety, but on the other hand it is more permeable and sensitive to climatic conditions
- ⊗ In the basal layer of the skin, cells that produce melanin are in lower quantity which means lower natural protection from the action of UV rays;
- ⊗ The deeper skin layer is more sensitive, with smaller, more immature collagen and elastic fibers;
- ⊗ The sebaceous glands are poorly active (the skin is odorless) and will remain like that until puberty. The typical lipid content of a baby's skin surface is therefore lower and very different compared to that of adults.
- ⊗ Baby skin is richer in water (about 75%) and hence more permeable. The pH is slightly less acidic than that of adult's.

All these features create a situation that allows climatic conditions (wind, cold, sun...), chemical (irritating substances) and microbiological agents (bacteria) to attack the infant skin barrier more easily.

Since this is the first days of life it is therefore extremely important to choose COSMETIC PRODUCTS specifically studied for the special features of baby's skin.

Baby Skin Care Products MUST:

- ☼ Guarantee absolute harmlessness
- ☼ Cleanse effectively yet gently
- ☼ Protect skin to the utmost
- ☼ Be preservative, SLS and SLES* free
- ☼ Be NICKEL TESTED

All cosmetics of Helan "LINEA BIMBI" are clinically and dermatologically tested, certifying their qualification in the pediatric field.

Helan Linea Bimbi (Infant Care Line) Cleansing Oil

With Marigold, carrot, Bushnut, Sweet Almond, Olive, Soya and Grape Seed oils

This blend of Vegetable oils, similar to the skins lipid structure, does not obstruct pores and it dissolves and delicately removes skin secretions without damaging the skin. It is especially useful in the back of the head, where constant wetness can often cause rash.

Particularly suitable for cleansing young children's sensitive skin, on which repetitive use of water could cause burning and redness.

This product has a high skin affinity texture and leaves a long lasting protective layer that respects the physiology of the skin.

HOW TO USE IT

The use of this oil is specifically aimed to clean the scalp and to remove scabs (cradle cap) that can form on a newborn's head.

Helan Linea Bimbi (Infant Care Line) Fluid Cleansing Cream

Oat, Marigold and Chamomile, Sweet Almond and Marigold Oils

Baby's skin is sensitive and delicate, It requires gentle products free of soap so as not to deplete the skin's hydrolipidic protective film.

Helan's Cleansing Lotion has soothing and calming properties thanks to a concentration of plant extracts such as oatmeal, Marigold and Chamomile flowers. It also moisturizes and nourishes skin owing to Marigold and Sweet Almond Oils extracts which delicately cleanse baby skin without altering its natural hydrolipidic balance, especially when skin is red or irritated and water is not recommended.

Soft and smooth, this lotion may be used on babies and children as a face and body cleanser.

BATH TIME

Bath time can sometimes be a frightening experience, but when done right it can calm the most finicky baby. The products contained within Helan's Infant Bath Time Line concentrate on aromatherapy to relax the infant, while the nourishing and protective ingredients give the most beneficial bath experience.

Helan Linea Bimbi (Infant Care Line) Total Care Shampoo and Bath Gel

Oat Marigold and Chamomile

Undoubtedly, a cleansing product for the baby's skin has to be gentle, non-aggressive and it must not produce irritating effects.

This means that, aside from a slightly acid pH (physiological), the cleanser's protein, glucide structure must not remove the skin's sebum, amino acid and protein.

Instead of shampoo and bath foam, Helan preferred a single protein for face, body and hair, made from surface active agents of vegetable origin: sugary substances extracted from sugar cane, beet-root, wheat, combined with fatty acids from Coconut palm.

This extremely gentle cleanser is enriched with Oat Flour proteins, Marigold and Chamomile extracts.

HOW TO USE IT

Doesn't irritate or sting eyes
